UPDATED PLUGIN RELEASE: GD BBPRESS TOOLBOX PRO 6.0

Reorganized most of the features, improved performance and with many new features

Niš, Serbia, May 14, 2020. Dev4Press today announced the release of the updated plugin for WordPress and bbPress: GD bbPress Toolbox Pro 6.0. This month, GD bbPress Toolbox Pro celebrates the eighth birthday, and the new 6.0 version represents a huge step forward, in both the plugin performance and features usability that should greatly benefit website owners using the plugin to enhance their bbPress powered forums.

New Features Panel with advanced bulk controls

Version 6.0 begins the process of full plugin rewrite, and switch to the namespacing code organization with the use of autoloader. At the same time, most of the plugin features have been reorganized through the new 'Features' panel to make finding the feature you need easier. This panel currently includes 37 Features, with only some of the features remaining in the old format through the Settings panel.'

But, the new version also includes many more new features: rich snippets support for JSON-LD format for breadcrumbs, the rich snippet for topic discussions, improved forum and topic information widgets to include icons, options to enable/disable attachments for topics and/or replies, options to change topic/reply permalinks to include forum hierarchy, fully reorganized JS and CSS files enqueueing, control over all the topic/reply actions to display, user settings framework, new import/export format and process and much more.

Version 6.0 also fixes more than 10 bugs related to various plugin features, widgets, setup wizard, and more.
